“ Shocked and saddened when I heard of Dans passing. Dan and Vicki have always been very generous with me, allowing me to use their boat launch as I please to duck hunt. I always looked forward to Dan coming out to ask how many we got and all of the great stories, including his famous piece of advice...."always tie your canoe up, my canoe came loose and blew all the way across the swamp one time. I was up on plane swimming across that muck worried about snapping turtles".Another fond memory I have is when my dad took me at 16 years old to Dans welding shop to have an aluminum boat repaired. Dan took the time to explain everything he was doing, I was so intrigued by welding, which has now turned into a career for me.The world has lost a truly selfless man, I am sorry for your loss Vicki, he will be missed by so many. Dan gave me his duck blind when his body wouldn't allow him to hunt anymore, I will make a monument in Dans honour and put it in the blind...a place where we shared a ton of memories.Rest in peace and thank you for your impact on my life Dan.Garnett Miller
