“ I "let go" of her and asked her to rest in peace and sleep. I told her when she woke I would be holding her hand and we would be young, healthy and forever together throughout all eternity. I promised her things would be great and that she would know that she should never have been afraid. I told her that I would be with her always and she with me. I told her she would be my bright star in the sky that I will follow every night and when my time came, I would know where to find her. These words I said to her as she was taking her last breaths. Through my sobs and tears, I spoke them, though every thing in my being wanted to NOT speak them, to not hear them uttered by anyone. I did what was best for my love and THAT is all I know. I miss her so. Requiescat in Pace Unable are the Loved to die, for love is immortality” Emily Dickinson

“ Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them, and try to follow where they lead.”~ Louisa May Alcott
“Requiescat in Pace” Unable are the Loved to die
For Love is Immortality, Nay, it is Deity
Unable they that love
to die
For Love reforms Vitality Into Divinity.
Emily Dickinson
“REMEMBER” BY CHRISTINA ROSSETTI
Remember me when I am gone away,
Gone far away into the silent land;
When you can no more hold me by the hand,
Nor I half turn to go yet turning stay.
Remember me when no more day by day
You tell me of our future that you planned:
Only remember me; you understand
It will be late to counsel then or pray.
Yet if you should forget me for a while
And afterwards remember, do not grieve:
For if the darkness and corruption leave
A vestige of the thoughts that once I had,
Better by far you should forget and smile
Than that you should remember and be sad.
“REMEMBER” BY CHRISTINA ROSSETTI

“ Walt, Christopher and Jenn thinking of you as you grieve this loss. In hospice, Deb held onto life for longer than expected a testament to the quiet strength and resilience that was apparent to those who knew her best. Deb was so special, so loved, so warmly remember. With Sympathy, Donna, Doug & Racquel Head
