Elburn was such a wonderful person and his kindness, generosity, appreciation and value of the simple and most important things in life shone through in his smile.

He was hardworking and adored by many. Elburn was a member of the Antique Car Club and enjoyed taking his model "A" Ford to many parades and car shows. Elburn enjoyed spending leisure time with family and friends at the Elburn especially love the following poem written by Olive Francy who was a friend of his mother's:

The North Woods

Up in the north where the wild wind blows,
And the loon sings out loud and clear,
There's a peace comes to me that is good for my soul,
And God is in everything near.
The pine gives its fragrance,
The Waves play a tune,
And over the stillness,
The light of the moon.
The stars are so bright,
And so low in the skies,
Makes me feel small and humble,
And know God is wise.
The deer in the thicket,
The fish in the bay,
A test to God's goodness,
And his wonderous way.
Oh give me the north woods,
If you need peace of mind,
And to all God's goodness,
The way you will find.

“ Deepest condolences to the entire Wood family. I remember a nice and gentle man going out in his coveralls to tend the cows. I just recall a kind soul who loved his family. Heartfelt sympathy from Connie and Ellen (Lock).

“ My condolences to Evelyn, Sharon, Brenda and extended family. Although I only knew Elburn for a short time, he treasured his wife and his family. He was always smiling and when asked how everything was he would often say "just dandy". It was a sincere pleasure to assist your father. You all did a great job taking care of him!Kathy S., PSW

“ Our deepest condolences to Gloria and family. 26 years ago, a smiling neighbour walked up our driveway of our new home and introduced himself and welcomed us to Keene. This was Elburn.
