“ Mrs. Thompson was an excellent history teacher at Peterborough Collegiate. I was a student in three of her courses and fortunate enough to win the prize for the top mark in her Grade 13 American History class. She kindly wrote a very nice comment in my yearbook at the end of the year. She took her teaching responsibilities seriously, as did the other teachers in the history department, including Mr. Dart, and Mr. Weir, and they prepared us well for future university studies in humanities and social sciences. They also took coached various sports teams at the school, in addition to their very busy teaching schedules. And they made the learning environment an enjoyable one. Condolences to her family and friends. J. Mark Langdon (former student)
